FEBRUARY 2025 / HEART HEALTH

WELCOME FROM OUR CO-DIRECTORS

Your heart works tirelessly—beating over 100,000 times daily—so caring for it is essential. Heart disease remains a leading global health concern, impacting millions and affecting not just physical function but also energy, emotional wellbeing, and longevity.

At Hippocrates Wellness, we recognize the far-reaching effects of cardiovascular challenges and the importance of a progressive, science-backed approach to healing. For over seven decades, we have helped countless individuals strengthen their hearts, optimize circulation, and restore vitality through groundbreaking programs, enzyme-rich plant-based nutrition, non-invasive therapies, and innovative protocols.

Heart health isn't just about treating symptoms—it's about nurturing the whole person: body, mind, and spirit. The Hippocrates Lifestyle is rooted in reducing inflammation, restoring balance, and supporting cardiovascular function, empowering you with the tools you need to thrive.

This month, we invite you to explore insights, strategies, and transformative success stories to fuel optimal wellbeing. Every day is a new opportunity to take control of your health—and it all begins with the heart. Be well,

WHAT'S NEW AT HIPPOCRATES WELLNESS THIS MONTH?

ASK THE EXPERTS

Q. How does sleep impact lifespan? - Antony Cook, Virginia

A. Sleep deprivation is a leading cause of brain dysfunction, reduced lifespan, and overall health decline. Research shows it impairs cognitive clarity, increases stress, and is the top contributor to accidents. Experts agree that uninterrupted REM sleep—ideally 8 hours per night—is essential for long-term wellbeing. Studies also reveal that sleep loss is cumulative, gradually shortening lifespan. Creating a dark, cool, and quiet sleep environment supports deep rest, while meditation, prayer, and contemplation help reset the brain's natural circadian rhythm. At Hippocrates Wellness, we integrate NuCalm and BrainTap technologies, proven to enhance relaxation, restore sleep patterns, and optimize brain function for lasting vitality.

- Brian Clement, PH.D., L.N.

Q. How can I naturally destress? - Liam James, Miami

A. You must find passion and purpose in life—we are all here to love, be loved, and find fulfillment. When we remain in toxic relationships, stressful workplaces, or disruptive friendships, we invite ongoing stress and imbalance. Prayer, meditation, and contemplation can help quiet the mind, but true harmony requires addressing the root cause of disharmony. We also recommend raw, pure CBD oil, magnesium, ashwagandha, and 5-HTP to support relaxation and overall wellbeing.

THINK PIECE

THE HEART OF LONGEVITY

BY ANNA MARIA AND BRIAN CLEMENT, PH.D., L.N.

The Pathway to Vibrant Health

Healing is not just about overcoming illness—it's about transforming the way we live. The heart, both physically and emotionally, is at the center of this transformation. Just as a healed bone grows stronger after a break, our bodies, minds, and hearts become more resilient when we learn from the challenges we face. True recovery is not about pushing through pain but understanding its message. Many believe in the phrase "no pain, no gain," but we see healing as an enhancer, not a punishment. The heart thrives when nourished, not depleted, and embracing a lifestyle of balance, movement, and self-care strengthens it from the inside out.

A Heartfelt Story of Healing

Recently, we encountered a former guest of Hippocrates Wellness—a woman now 98 years old who looked decades younger. When she first came to us, she was battling arthritis and multiple sclerosis, conditions deemed "incurable" by top medical institutions. Within six months of embracing the Hippocrates lifestyle, she was free of pain and moving with ease. Two years later, her doctors confirmed that the plaques in her brain had disappeared, and she had no trace of MS. When asked what drove her healing, she smiled and said, "I had so much more I wanted to do; I couldn't give in at such an early age." She didn't just restore her health—she reclaimed her joy, vitality, and purpose.

Living with Heart and Purpose

The heart is more than a physical organ—it is a source of passion, resilience, and connection. Many people live on autopilot, asking, "What's in it for me?" But those who thrive and live long, fulfilling lives ask, "What can I give?" Contribution fuels purpose and purpose strengthens the heart. We've repeatedly seen that those who engage in life with meaning—through movement, laughter, love, and service—experience greater heart health and longevity. When we nourish our bodies with plant-based nutrition, move daily, and cultivate gratitude, we align with the natural flow of life.

"Longevity isn't just about adding years—it's about making those years vibrant, fulfilling, and deeply connected."

The Heart's Choice: Fear or Gratitude

Every day, we have two choices: to see life as a struggle or to embrace it with gratitude. Many remain stuck in a fear-based survival mode, unable to recognize the abundance and healing potential around them. But the heart thrives when we choose love over fear, presence over worry, and purpose over stagnation.

Longevity isn't just about adding years—it's about making those years vibrant, fulfilling, and deeply connected. The heart is at the core of this journey. We open ourselves to a life of joy and optimal wellbeing when we listen, nurture, and align with its wisdom.

The Rhythm of Renewal

Just as the heart beats in a steady, life-giving rhythm, our journey to health follows its own cycles of renewal. Each day offers a new opportunity to nourish, strengthen, and restore. Science shows that laughter, social connection, and emotional fulfillment contribute to heart health as much as diet and exercise.

Engaging in activities that bring joy, purpose, and human connection helps regulate the nervous system, lower inflammation, and promote overall wellbeing. When we align with the body's natural capacity for renewal, healing is no longer a battle—it becomes a flowing process of transformation. The key is to listen, adapt, and embrace the rhythms of life with gratitude.

WELLNESS AT HOME

LIVE THE HIPPOCRATES LIFESTYLE ANYWHERE, ANY TIME

FEED YOUR HEART

Nourishment from Within

A raw, enzyme-rich diet is essential for supporting cardiovascular health. At Hippocrates Wellness, we focus on organic living foods that reduce inflammation, improve circulation, and provide vital heart-nourishing nutrients. Just as important is eliminating processed foods, which can introduce toxins, contribute to arterial plaque, and disrupt cholesterol balance.

HEART-FOCUSED MOVEMENT

Strengthen & Energize

Movement is essential for heart health and longevity. At Hippocrates Wellness, we emphasize low-impact, heart-boosting activities like yoga, rebounding, Nuro-Size, and breathwork, which improve circulation, oxygenation, and cardiovascular resilience. Daily movement helps regulate blood pressure, reduce stress, and enhance energy levels, ensuring your heart stays strong and supported.

HEART-MIND HARMONY

Reduce Stress, Support Your Heart

Emotional wellbeing is key to heart health, as stress and anxiety can elevate blood pressure and heart disease risk. At Hippocrates Wellness, we use science-backed relaxation techniques to restore balance. Meditation and mindfulness lower cortisol, regulate heart rhythms and promote calm. Infrared & PEMF Therapy enhances circulation, reduces inflammation, and supports emotional health.

CHEF KEN'S RECIPE OF THE MONTH

HEART-HEALTHY FLAX CRACKERS

Ingredients:

- 5 red peppers
- 3 ½ cups of flaxseed
- ½ of a red onion
- 3 garlic cloves
- 3 tablespoons of chili powder
- ½ teaspoon of green salt or 1 teaspoon of kelp powder
- 4 ounces of fresh lemon juice
- 3 stalks of celery
- 1 teaspoon of garlic powder
- 1 pinch of cayenne powder
- 5 ½ cups of water

Method:

1. Soak 2 ½ cups of flax seeds in 5 ½ cups water for 3 hrs.
2. Grind 1 cup of flax seeds into powder; set aside.
3. Blend the remaining ingredients and mix with the soaked flax seeds.
4. Stir in the flax seed powder.
5. Spread evenly on a paraflex sheet and score.
6. Dehydrate overnight at 110°F (43°C). Flip onto a mesh tray.
7. Dehydrate until crispy. Store airtight.

AMANDA JOHNS STORY

BATTLING HEART FAILURE & ITP THROMBOCYTOPENIA

Years of illness left me bedridden, weak, and facing a grim prognosis. Diagnosed with congestive heart failure, anemia, and ITP, my platelet count would plummet without warning. Doctors tried everything, but deep down, I knew medicine was only a temporary fix. When I arrived at Hippocrates Wellness, I discovered a new path rooted in plant-based nutrition, detoxification, and energy healing. Through this lifestyle, I rebuilt my strength, restored my health, and found clarity in my healing journey. Each day at Hippocrates felt like waking up in paradise, reminding me that true healing comes from within. I am now vibrant, healthy, and dedicated to helping others reclaim their wellness. My illness was not a tragedy—it was a blessing that guided me toward my purpose. Your health journey is uniquely yours, but empowerment is the key to transformation. Trust in your body's ability to heal—because healing is possible.
